

Common Market Excludes Britain Despite U.S. Appeal

5 French Partners Fail to Change Stand by De Gaulle

BY TOM OCHILTREE
BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Britain lost its fight today to keep on negotiating for Common Market membership despite last-minute intervention by President Kennedy's administration. Envoys of the six members gave British officials the bad news.

After a day of wrangling, the French came out of the conference room clear winners. The French not only killed Britain's bid for membership, but in the view of some diplomats they have begun a long process of lessening American and British influence on the Continent.

Told of Rejection
Bitterly disappointed, Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak said the spirit of European unity suffered a severe setback. Formal rejection of Britain's bid was made known to Deputy Foreign Minister Edward Heath at an afternoon session—the first one this week the British were invited to attend.

Five of the six Common Market countries fought on Britain's behalf but were unable to overcome France's opposition. As the negotiating ministers for the six Common Market countries recessed for lunch, West German Economic Minister Ludwig Erhard told reporters:

"The negotiations are over. They have failed. We will come together again this afternoon, but no progress at all has been made. The five are still in agreement that Britain should be brought into the Common Market but they cannot convince France."

U. S. Shows Concern
Just before the ministers met, U.S. Ambassador John Tuthill had handed Erhard a statement expressing the U.S. government's concern at the bitter dispute raging among France and the other five members of the European Economic Community—West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, Italy and Luxembourg.

Tuthill met with Erhard shortly before ministers of the six market nations gathered behind closed doors to resume their battling over Britain's membership application. France was standing fast in opposition to the British, determined to pursue President Charles de Gaulle's dream of an American as well as British influence reduced.

Support for Britain
American sources declined to say whether the communication was written by Kennedy or only authorized by him. It was understood, however, that it carried clearly the stamp of the President's thinking.

For the past few days the U.S. government has exerted considerable diplomatic persuasion to keep alive Britain's chances of getting into the Common Market. Some members feared that the impasse threatened the future of the prosperous, six-nation European Economic Community.

What British hopes remained rested on the outcome of a private discussion between the West Germans and the French.

Delay Sought
The huddle gave West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schröder and Economic Minister Ludwig Erhard one more opportunity to urge French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville to accept a compromise formula that would put the negotiations in the hands of a study group.

The group—the EEC's nine-man executive commission would report back its findings to the ministers of the six countries. The study would be accompanied by recommended solutions of outstanding problems, and Britain would get an opportunity to discuss the findings with the Common Market members.

To many, the West German proposal appeared to be a maneuver to postpone the final breakdown until after the West German Parliament votes on ratification of the treaty of French-West German cooperation which De Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer concluded last week. The treaty is expected to have hard sledding heart attack and three separate blood clots in his lungs since Dec. 3.

Robert Frost, Famous Poet, Dies in Boston

Unexpected Death Attributed to Lung Blood Clot

The four-time Pulitzer Prize winner had been making what doctors called a remarkable recovery until his general condition began deteriorating in the past 48 hours.

His attending physician, Dr. Roger B. Hickler, said Frost died shortly after complaining of severe chest pains and a shortness of breath.

Entered Hospital Dec. 3
Cause of death was listed as "probably a pulmonary embolism"—a blood clot in the lungs. Dr. Hickler said that a few hours before the fatal attack Frost was "talkative and comfortable."

Frost entered the hospital Dec. 3 and underwent an operation seven days later for removal of a urinary obstruction. Subsequently he had a heart attack and blood clots settled in his lungs. In an attempt to ease the blood clots, doctors operated on both legs to tie the veins earlier this month.

Fame came late to the one-time mill worker, New Hampshire.

President Asks $1.2 Billion To Start Education Aid Plan

13 New Programs, Broader 11 Existing U. S. Setups Included in His Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy sent to Congress today a 34-point program of federal aid to education, and asked for $1.2 billion to get it started.

As before, his proposals made no provision for direct aid to private or parochial schools.

Included in the omnibus measure are 13 new programs and 11 existing programs to be extended and expanded.

They include a complex system of grants for public elementary and secondary education, work projects for college students, expanded student loans, and loans and grants to help public and private colleges alike to meet the surge of new enrollments.

The President placed no price tag on his total package, which he said would "phase out federal aid over a four-year period."

But he told Congress, "It is clearly realistic in terms of its cost—and it is clearly essential to the growth and security of this nation."

High Priority
An administration spokesman called it a high priority program, designed to pin-point the most crucial needs and problems in American education, and at the same time to avoid controversy wherever possible.

For the past two years, Kennedy's education proposals have foundered in a controversy over aid for church schools. Kennedy

Winter Eases Bitter Cold in European Areas

Mountains and East Coast of Italy Hit By New Snowfall

BY ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON (AP)—Fresh snow fell on the mountains and east coast of Italy today, but in most other countries the sting seemed to have gone out of Europe's killer freeze.

The effects of the long cold wave lingered. Snowplows churned along roads. Icebreakers crunched through sea and river shipping lanes. Reports continued to filter in of villages marooned by snows and of people killed by the bitter cold.

423 Deaths Reported
Europe's unofficial death toll from the freeze reached 423.

In Japan, blizzards slackened along the west coast after 19 days of steady snow. Weathermen warned that more rough weather might be approaching from the China mainland. The death toll rose to 77 with 9 missing and 72 injured.

Italy had another night of snow in the Apennine Mountains and along the Adriatic coast. It snowed again in Sicily and Sardinia. Heavy seas kept the Adriatic and Ionian fishing fleets hugging their harbors. An air force helicopter dumped wild rice over marshes near the mouth of the Po River to save thousands of wild birds from starvation.

Dig Out of Snows
Three people froze to death in Yugoslavia. A sick boy died as his father carried him to find medical aid.

East Germany announced it was digging its way out of heavy week-end snows, but authorities maintained a strict ration on gas and electric power supplies.

The deep snows retreated further across Britain as temperatures stayed steadily above freezing mark. The thaw left a rash of minor floods and hundreds of broken water mains.

Temperatures lingered around the freezing point in France and there was light snow in several areas. In Poland schools reopened after a week's shutdown due to a coal shortage. Icebound Silesia and railways still plagued Silesia and western Poland, however, and ice menaced shipping on the Baltic.

Pilot Dies but Passenger Lands Plane Safely

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—The pilot of a small plane died at the controls Monday but one of three passengers, none a pilot, guided the plane to a safe landing.

"All I did was steer the thing and follow instructions," said Lester Peterson, 38, assistant project manager for the American ridge Co.

"He did a real beautiful job," said Lou Domenico, a flight instructor who directed the landing from the Cheyenne control tower. "He kept his head."

Pilot Edgar R. Van Keuren, 56, Rapid City, S.D., slumped over the wheel as the single-engine plane started to land at a missile construction site 45 miles north-east of here.

"It looked like he was falling asleep," said Peterson, who was sitting in the copilot's seat. "So I took over."

All three passengers live in Cheyenne. Peterson formerly lived in Union City, N.J. Laun is from Elkhardt Lake, Wis., and Pawlack is from Fair Oaks, Pa.

KENOSHA (AP)—The battered body of juke box distributor Anthony Biernat—missing for three weeks—was found in a shallow, lime-sprinkled grave in the basement of a vacant farmhouse in a heavily wooded section of the abandoned Bong Air Force Base Monday evening.

The top of Biernat's head had been crushed by three, and possibly four, blows, according to Kenosha County Coroner Edward Wavro. The coroner said there were no gunshot wounds.

The body of the 46-year-old Kenosha, who was last seen alive on the night of Jan. 7, was found in a police search. The air base site is in Kenosha, and Racine counties.

Trail of Blood
Kenosha Police Chief Stanley Haukedahl said the number of blood stains in the small, white hilltop farmhouse indicated Biernat was slain there. A trail of blood stains led from an outside basement entrance dug into the ground to the grave in the earth on floor.

Mother and 10 Children Perish In Quebec Fire

CHANDLER, Que. (AP)—A young mother ran back into her flaming house and perished today with 10 of her 12 children in a vain rescue attempt.

Police said Fernande Dupuis, 33, tried to save the sleeping youngsters—aged 2 months to 13 years.

The father and two older children, René, 13, and Chloé, 15, escaped.

Police said an oil stove explosion caused the fire in St. Adelparish near this town, 320 miles northeast of Quebec City in the Gaspé Peninsula.

The Rev. Paul-Emile Lamarre, parish priest, said Dupuis told him he got up and lit the oil stove at 4:30 a.m.

Shortly after 5 a.m., neighbors heard an explosion and the house broke out in flames.

Test Ban Talks In New York

British, Americans Want Details on Russian Proposal

NEW YORK (AP)—The nuclear test ban negotiators moved their talks into New York today.

The Americans and the British were expected to pressure the Soviets for details on what some see as the key to a possible breakthrough in the long-deadlocked talks—the Soviet offer to accept limited on-site inspections.

U.S. British and Soviet negotiators scheduled an afternoon meeting at the headquarters of the Soviet mission to the United Nations. No progress was announced following similar sessions in Washington last week.

Explanation Sought
Western negotiators were expected to press for a detailed explanation of the Soviet offer to permit two or three on-site inspections in the Soviet Union each year. The West has regarded 8 or 10 inspections a year as necessary to insure that a test ban treaty is upheld.

Premier Khrushchev made the undetailed inspection offer in a letter to President Kennedy last month. Foy D. Kohler, U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union, is due in Washington Wednesday with a new Kremlin message for Kennedy.

Washington authorities expressed the opinion that a test ban agreement might be possible with the Soviets in the wake of Khrushchev's acceptance of the inspection principle. Some diplomats at the United Nations were cautiously hopeful.

Ford, who came to Venezuela to inspect a new auto assembly plant at Valencia, 75 miles northwest of Caracas, was unavailable for comment.

Talks Fail to End Printers' Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—The third round of City Hall negotiations in the printers' strike failed today to produce a settlement of a 33-day shutdown of the city's nine major newspapers.

The mediation effort, headed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, broke up early today with no progress reported. Negotiations resume later today.

Negotiators for the printers' union and the publishers held the first face-to-face talks at City Hall Monday since Wagner intervened as mediator Saturday.

Implanted Electronic Ear Enables Woman, Deaf Since Birth, to Hear

BY RALPH DIGHTON

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Last Nov. 27 an electronic "ear" was surgically implanted in the skull of a 46-year-old woman who had been deaf from birth.

Today Mrs. X can hear. She can distinguish words and is operation at a meeting of the American Medical Association.

The device in Mrs. X's skull measures 1 1/2 x 1 1/2 x 1/2 inches and weighs about two ounces.

James Doyle said the next model would be much thinner and could be implanted under the skin. It would not have to be recessed into the skull.

Mrs. X's "tin ear" carries only one channel of signals from a lapel microphone to her eighth, or auditory, nerve, but this enables her to tell one word from another.

The next model, Doyle said, will have at least four channels, enabling the patient to hear a wider variety and volume of sounds, with less distortion. Eventually he hopes to perfect models with 20 to 30 channels and thus approximate normal sound reproduction.

No Bad Results
The cost of the next model: about $1,000, exclusive of medical fees.

"So far Mrs. X has had no infection, no pain and no headaches," Doyle said. "She can tell a settlement of a printers' strike whether the speaker is a man or a woman. And most important of all, she is very happy."

In many cases of deafness, Doyle said, the auditory nerve is normal. Accident or illness has damaged the ear drum or the tiny bones that conduct its vibrations to a fluid-filled organ called the cochlea. So long as the cochlea, or semicircular canal, is undamaged, and the auditory nerve is normal, he said, the electronic device will work.

Farm Bureau Favors Reduction in State, Federal Spending

FENIMORE, Wis. (AP)—Farm Bureau Federation officials said Monday the organization favors reductions in both federal and state spending.

William Kaskaitas, the bureau's legislative director, said Farm Bureau members across the nation ask that agriculture lead the way in seeking a reduction in the national debt and a sensible tax cut "by taking a 20 per cent cut in the agriculture budget."

He said a national budget of $93 billion would permit a reduction in the national debt and a tax cut.

Details Sought on Reynolds' Charges

Kenosha Mayor Says Picture Now a Little Clearer; Hopes Voiced for Cooperative Effort

MADISON (AP)—Kenosha officials met with Gov. John W. Hammond Monday seeking additional information on the chief executive's public charges that organized crime is centered in three areas of Wisconsin including Kenosha.

Following the 90-minute closed door session Mayor Eugene Hammond said the governor did not present a full report on information Reynolds says he has to back his contention.

"I'd say we got a little clearer picture, but no specifics," said Reynolds Monday.

Hammond also said the conference advanced hopes that a cooperative effort can be developed.

One of the topics apparently taken up at the conference was the disappearance of Kenosha juke box operator Anthony Brienat 46. Shortly after the Kenosha group returned home Brienat's body was found in a shallow grave in the basement of a vacant house on the abandoned Bong Air Force Base in western Kenosha County.

Brienat was last seen alive the night of Jan. 7 at a Kenosha railroad depot and there were reports that hoodlums had attempted to buy his business.

Reynolds announced last Friday that the Federal Bureau of Investigation was joining the Brienat probe at his request. At the same time the governor said he believed organized crime had invaded Kenosha County and that things were pretty bad.

The governor also called for the establishment of a state agency to meet underworld activities he said could not be effectively checked with present state and local police facilities. Earlier in the week he had said that crime was centered in Milwaukee and Milwaukee County and Fond du Lac County in addition to the Kenosha area.

Given Statement

After Monday's meeting news men were given a written statement which said the group calling on the governor agreed that problems can arise that are beyond the scope of state authorities.

Also meeting with the governor and John Gronouski, the head of the State Department of Taxation, were Sophus Nelson, Kenosha County Board Chairman, Stanley Haukedahl, Kenosha police chief, and Kenosha County Sheriff Leland Chantres.

Chances Good For Hike in 32nd's Strength

Rep. Laird Makes Comment After McNamara Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said Monday after a meeting with Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara that there is a fairly good chance that the 32nd Division's strength will be increased to 65 per cent.

Laird said McNamara will consider a request that the strength of the Wisconsin National Guard unit be increased. Following the conference, Laird said, "The whole question is being taken under active consideration by the secretary."

Laird said the 32nd Division is one of the most ready in the country. It was a mistake, he said, to cut the Wisconsin guard to 40 per cent after investing $100 million for nearly a year of active training for the unit last year at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Texas Unit

The congressman said the 5th committee on which he serves will review not only the Wisconsin division but the 49th Armored Division of Texas. Both units were called to active duty late in 1961 at the time of the Berlin crisis.

Laird said McNamara will appear before his defense subcommittee early in February for a discussion of the strength of the two divisions. The strength of both was cut to 60 per cent of a full division in a National Guard reorganization last fall.

Laird said divisions not called to active duty were trimmed to 70 per cent.

Madison Police Officer Admits Shooting Wife

Couple's Children Apparently Didn't Witness Slaying

MADISON (AP)—A police officer who called the department and said "Come and get me before I shoot somebody else" has admitted the slaying Monday evening of his wife, a police department clerk who was a former Miss Madison.

Dane County Dist. Atty. William B. Byrne said Earl C. Schuster, 45, shot and killed his wife Lois, 33, after a quarrel in their home.

No formal charge was filed against Schuster immediately.

The couple's three children, 9, 6 and 2 years old, were at home

Schuster Mrs. Schuster

but officers said they apparently did not witness the shooting. Mrs. Schuster's body was found on the living room floor. Her husband's .38 caliber police revolver was nearby. All six bullets had been fired.

Couldn't Take It

Detective Robert Ferries, the first to reach the Schuster home, said the officer told him he couldn't take it any more.

Schuster had been a member of the police force since 1950. He had left work at 3:30 p.m. and was at home with the children when his wife a onetime mermaid arrived.

Mrs. Schuster was the former Lois Raffel and was Miss Madison around 1930. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Ratter. Her father is an officer of a Madison bank.

Schuster's supporters said he had a good record as a police officer. He went into shock when taken to the station and was unable to answer questions.

Britain welcomed the brothers who are on a European business tour. They explained a Green Bay project for the creation there of an "Old Namur."

Hoffa Charges R. F. Kennedy Pressures Bonding Companies

NEW YORK (AP)—Calling it the vendetta of Bob Kennedy, James R. Hoffa has charged that the U. S. attorney general has put pressure on bonding companies to refuse to write bonds for Teamsters Union officers.

Under the Landrum-Griffin labor law, all labor leaders handling union funds must be bonded, and the bonding firms need approval by the Treasury Department.

In Washington, spokesmen for the Justice and Labor departments declined comment on Hoffa's allegations, made Monday night in a CBS television network interview on the Walter Cronkite news show.

We never comment on anything Mr. Hoffa says," the Labor Department spokesman said.

Hoffa, 49, and bonding companies now handling the Teamsters' affairs, he said, have "refused" him they will no longer do so.

The last bond expires Feb. 1, he wrote them.

Hoffa specifically mentioned Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who asked what government departments of the government on the bonding companies, particularly those that have already bonded us.

Hoffa, 49, specifically mentioned Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who asked what government departments of the government on the bonding companies, particularly those that have already bonded us.

The Justice Department, Hoffa replied. The representatives of Bobby Kennedy particularly are the ones who are around talking to the representatives of the bonding companies.

Hoffa, whose union is barred from the AFL-CIO on corruption charges—said the union had contacted every bonding company in the country which writes the type of bond needed by the union leaders and all so far have refused to write them.

Clemson College Enrollees

Negro Prepares for Orientation Course

BY ROBERT MCHUGH

CLEMSON S. C. (AP)—Harvey Gantt, first Negro to be enrolled at historic Clemson College, learns the ways of campus life today after spending his first night in what was once an all-white dormitory.

The routine orientation course called for the 20-year-old son of a shipyard worker from Charleston to mingle with other new students and transfer students. The briefings were designed to acquaint newcomers with the geographic rules and customs of the school.

This was Gantt's first experience in the normal student to student relation ship. The routine of orientation today, signing up in individual classes Wednesday and Thursday's free hours before classes start on Friday.

Watch for Trouble

When Gantt enrolled Monday, police covered the campus and its environs carefully, and as many as 150 reporters and photographers dogged his steps. Uniformed patrolmen manned all campus entrances on the watch for trouble-makers.

The soft spoken youth had little chance to enter into normal relationships with other students.

The atmosphere was quiet, marked by only two minor incidents. Three tires were slashed on three highway patrol cars. Two men accused of making threatening remarks were removed from the campus by police.

Despite the calm restrictions were tight during the night. News men were barred from the campus after 7:30 p.m. Only persons with homes or offices on the rolling 400-acre school grounds could venture abroad without being burned back by police or college security forces.

Another Newcomer

On the surface Gantt was being welcomed by students and college officials as just another new comer.

Gantt dined alone Monday night at a table for six in the huge student cafeteria which seats 2,000. The noisy buzz of conversation and the clatter of knives and forks subsided briefly as he entered.

Then the normal sounds resumed. Before Gantt finished eating, a student stopped at his table for a friendly word. Later six more dropped by.

After dark two students visited Gantt's room for what appeared to observers to be a friendly chat. South Carolina was the last state in the nation to integrate its public schools on any level.

Gantt, who transferred here from Iowa State University where he had a white roommate apparently will room alone in a dormitory populated largely by graduates and foreign students.

He has said he hopes to make friends, but is here to get an education.

U. S. Believes French Want American Power Taken Out of Europe

Washington Hopes W. Germany Will Balk at De Gaulle's Attempt

BY PETER LISAGOR

Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — Administration officials grudgingly lean toward the view that French President Charles De Gaulle wants nothing less than the withdrawal of American power and influence from Europe.

This estimate of De Gaulle's intentions is admittedly a tentative one but it is being confided to Congressional committees by top officials, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

"The truth is, we don't know what is in the old general's mind," says one official, "but a logical extension of his vision for Europe leads to the conclusion that we should get out."

It is not believed that De Gaulle expects this to happen overnight. Nor is Washington prepared to expedite his plans with petulant threats to pull out if he doesn't abandon his obstructionist policies.

House and Senate

Yet the fact that House and Senate committees dealing with foreign policy are being given this bleak interpretation of the French leader's opposition to Britain's entry into the common market and to NATO defense plans indicates how gravely the Kennedy Administration regards his attitude.

Officials tend to minimize the immediate effects of France's uncooperation position. They say that Britain will continue its relatively prosperous pattern of trade for some time and that present western defense arrangements remain an adequate deterrent to Soviet aggression.

Within a few years, however, the dream of what President Kennedy has called an interdependent Atlantic community will prove empty and European unity will be a shambles in their reluctant view.

British Failure

Although Washington has no alternatives to Britain's failure to be admitted to the common market, it does have hope that West Germany will balk at De Gaulle's attempt to shut out the United States.

Bonn is considered here to be the key to De Gaulle's prospects. It is strongly doubted that West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer or any of his possible successors would want the United States to withdraw from Europe in the foreseeable future. They look upon American military might as their main protector against incursions from the east.

Petroleum Firms May Offer to Buy North Shore

MILWAUKEE (AP)—An offer from Wisconsin Illinois petroleum interests to buy the North Shore Railroad for $2.5 million will be made possibly by Wednesday, the Milwaukee Sentinel said Monday night.

The Sentinel, saving its information from a reliable source, said the group would retain some property along the line for storage but would lease the line to the North Shore Commuters Railroad Co. for operation.

Rov Roadcap spokesman for the Chicago commuters group said the information is news to him. He said however the commuters group would be willing to lease the line if it were purchased by others.

The electric railway that had operated between Milwaukee and Chicago closed down on Jan. 21 with the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Susquehanna Corp., owner of the line, said it came on line after the carrier had been operating at a loss.

Heat Restored To City's Homes

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP)—The 25,000 residents of Sedalia came out of a 24-hour freeze today with heat restored to their homes, stores and schools.

Sedalia and the nearby village of Lamonte were stricken Sunday night when a 12-inch natural gas pipeline broke in two places and the temperature dropped to 5 below zero.

The pipeline was repaired Monday but an emergency crew of 300 men had to cover the city and turn on pilot lights at each of 8,500 connections. About 90 per cent of the job was completed. Some homes had to be bypassed because the occupants were away.

for dummy to ruff, whereupon Stakgold thought "Why did East step up with the jack of spades?" the Professor wondered "He could not have had anything delicious to lead back, so why did he want to win the trick? He must have realized that his partner's natural switch would be to trumps, and this would worry East only if he had the queen of trumps"

This was one problem solved East had the queen of hearts. Now Stakgold went on

"But why did West overtake with the queen of spades? He knew that his partner wanted to win the trick. If his partner wanted to return a trump, West wasn't worried. But West was worried about a diamond return by East. Therefore West must have the queen of diamonds"

So the Professor cashed the ace of hearts, led another heart to pick up the queen, and then led out the king and ace of diamonds to pick up West's queen

The opponents stared at him in amazement and some resentment. "Why didn't you take a finesse?" they asked. "How did you work it out?"

Stakgold shrugged. "It was obvious," he said

Today's Etiquette BY LOUISE DAVIS

SHOWER PROBLEM

Dear Louise: I am a diabetic and am expecting my first baby. I have been briefed in detail by my doctor about such births. Although I am not pessimistic, I know what can happen. Two of my friends wish to give showers, but I haven't yet accepted. If I go ahead and say yes, and if the baby doesn't survive, what should I do about the gifts? I would appreciate any suggestions.

Louise Davis Answers: If the showers are given before the baby arrives, the gifts would be given and received in good faith and you would be entitled to keep them if your baby doesn't live, in which case there may be another baby. No doubt all your friends are aware of your diabetic condition. If it would make you feel better about these showers, you could ask your two hostesses to wait until after the baby is born and until you feel strong enough to attend.

WIDOW'S NAME

Dear Louise: When addressing a letter to a woman whose husband is dead, does one write Mrs. John Jones or Mrs. Mary Jones? My daughter and her husband recently bought their second new house. I got them a gift the first time, but is it expected of me to purchase a second house gift?

Louise Davis Answers: A widow continues to be Mrs. John Jones, so that is the way to address a letter to her. There is no rule about getting a gift for a second house, or even a first one. Such "compulsions" come from the heart. If you have the urge to get something that would delight your daughter and her husband, by all means do it—and as often as you wish.

Seymour Teachers Get Salary Boosts

School Term to be Extended By One Week; One Period to Be Added to Teaching Load

SEYMOUR — The largest increase in teachers' salaries in recent years was enacted Thursday night by the Seymour Union High School board of education. Base salary figures were raised to $4,600 for a bachelor degree, $4,700 for a bachelor and at least 15 graduate credits toward the master degree, and $4,900 for a master degree.

Previous bases were $4,400, $4,500 and $4,600. The new schedule becomes effective with approval of the 1963-64 term budget at the annual meeting this summer.

Deleted from the new schedule is a reference to additional remuneration for head of the family previously $200 annually to teachers residing within the district. A $200 annual allotment for the school's 11 department heads was approved.

Sick leave previously limited to 30 days maximum has been extended to 60 days. A doctor's certificate verifying illness will be required after the second day of absence.

Extend Term

The school year will be extended from 94 months to 95 months, adding a week to the calendar. Teachers will be given responsibility for six classes a day instead of the previous five. The move explained Principal Robert Fanning will reduce the number of teachers needed next year.

All teachers will be placed on schedule and those above the scheduled increment will freeze at their present level until the schedule catches up with their position. Fanning said this temporary freeze would affect only one member of the 32 teacher faculty. Teachers will be allowed $400 for summer school study toward their master's degree.

Top salary now available to teachers on the new 12 increment schedule is $7,252.

Teachers can now advance eight steps before freezing at that last step without advanced education. At the bachelor plus 15 graduate credits or more level there are 10 steps for advancement and a full 12 for the master level.

Principal Fanning indicated that the salaries would increase in proportion to about $14,200 over a year ago. The board concurred with his recommendation to increase the base margin between the master degree and lower levels in an effort to encourage teachers to seek the higher degree.

The new schedule also breaks the precedent set in the previous schedule of limiting teachers to a $400 raise in one year. Principal Fanning said that he thought the school would return to the policy once teachers were on the new schedule. Top salary attainable on the new schedule is $7,252, as compared to the present $6,512.

Fourteen teachers on the faculty will be affected by the cancellation of the head of family clause but eight of them will regain their loss as department heads.

'Adjust Load'

Fanning said the six period day will help adjust its teacher pupil load. The board noted that it would take several years for the longer teaching day to affect members of the faculty. The extra days will be devoted to teaching since in service program was increased last year.

A northeastern Wisconsin school survey of 78 schools indicated that Seymour's $4,400 base for 1962-63 is $61 below the average. At the five-year experience level Seymour ranked $201 above the average mark of $5,254 or $4,456. Teachers with 10 years experience averaged $5,991 or $256 below the Seymour level of $6,248. At the top of the schedule Seymour teachers were ahead by $59 of the average $6,402.60 or $6,512. Seymour was only a half increment off the average 12.6 increment schedule.

Six Seymour teachers have their master degree, five are at the bachelor plus 15 credit level one at bachelor plus 30 graduate credits and the balance between the bachelor and 15 credit level. The new schedule also cancels a provision for $100 per each graduate credit after $15 credits in lieu of the new $400 blanket fee.

Telephone Stockholders Hold Final Meeting at Readfield

Firm Has Been in Business for 50 Years, but Now Being Sold

BY JOHN SAWALL, Post-Crescent Staff Writer

READFIELD — For the last 50 years stockholders of the Readfield Telephone Co. have attended the annual meeting of their company. Monday night was their last meeting. The company has been sold and the new owners will take over March 1.

To the 250 subscribers of the company it will eventually mean modernization of the equipment. The cold clicking and buzzing of automatic dial equipment will be replaced by the familiar Number Please of one of the three operators who now serve around the clock.

Negotiations for the purchase of the 54 shares of stock from 33 stockholders is near completion according to Fred Grunwald, president of the Readfield firm.

New owners Raymond Pusch Jr. and Raymond Pusch Sr., Appleton, also own the Larsen Telephone Co. They said the Readfield company will be operated independently and will not become a part of the Larsen firm. Raymond Pusch Jr., president, said the rates will remain the same and all present employees will be retained.

Linemen Present

Present at Monday night's meeting was Reinhold Westphal, lineman and service man for Readfield. He is the only line man the company has ever had.

His service with the company reaches back the entire 50 years it has been organized. He estimated he has spent over 40,000 hours working on the lines and equipment of the company.

A great deal of the line still has the original wire but the poles have been changed several times except for a few in swampy areas.

Loses All Possessions

Man Left Homeless as Fire Destroys House

A two room shack near the Appleton Yacht Club which has been home off and on for 23 years for Albert Stegert, 79, burned to the ground in less than one hour Monday.

Stegert was injured as he tried to fight the fire. He was treated for burns to his left hand by Appleton police.

Fire authorities still are investigating the cause of the fire.

Told of Fire

Stegert said a piece of wood on his small stove burst into flames and fell to the floor. The flames spread, and according to Stegert, "it got out of hand."

The Appleton Fire Department was told of the fire about 8:20 a. m. by a motorist who passed the shack at 1114 Lutz Drive and saw it burning. The unidentified motorist drove to the Appleton Fire Station and reported the blaze. Other calls soon followed but by the time the firemen arrived the shack was destroyed.

Stegert was driven from his shack wearing only a sweater and a pair of pants. He was taken to the Appleton city garage by a street sanitation crew which was working near the scene.

Stegert, a former resident of the shack home in 1961, will be returned to the home until he can find another home, Appleton Relief Director Merton Ehrlicke said.

Lost Possessions

Stegert said all his possessions, an ice box, a roll away bed, his clothes and a box of rifle shells were lost in the fire. Stegert is on Social Security, but according to Ehrlicke, works at odd jobs at the Yacht Club. He formerly was a bartender there.

Future of Church in Rural Areas Discussed at Methodist Meeting

Shortage of Pastors, Small Parishes Called Problems Facing Congregations

SEYMOUR — Methodist pastors and lay leaders from North and Central Wisconsin paused Saturday to analyze the church future in rural areas of the state.

About 90 Methodists gathered at St. Paul Methodist Church in Seymour for the one-day Town and Country conference. Leaders expressed concern over shortage of ministers, financial stresses on smaller rural parishes in addition to social and cultural challenges facing the church.

The meetings have been called throughout the state by Bishop Ralph Alton of Appleton on the district level to discuss future "cooperations" with other Protestant churches and concentrate attention on the churches future needs.

Headlining the program of speakers was Dr. Harold S. Huff, director of Town and Country Work Division of National Missions of the Methodist Church. Huff indicated that attention must be given to the local mission of the church in an attempt to determine "what the church is for and why it exists" in light of modern changes.

Smaller churches are struggling. Historically these little churches dotted the countryside but the pattern is changing and the church must adjust, he said. The church also faces the problem of communicating with the unchurched.

Use Concept Huff said that some areas are using the parish concept in which two or more Methodist churches work together on their activities. Pastors work together as a team heading phases of the parish such as administration, parish organization activities and youth work. East pastor would handle the phase which best suited his talents.

The practice is being used in southern Wisconsin but not in this section of the state at present. Results of panel discussions held in the afternoon indicated that church leaders also are thinking along the long range lines of merging small Methodist churches with a larger Protestant church in an area where only two or few exist. The result would relieve financial problems, operating two churches and free one of the pastors for work in another area.

Some expressed the concern over the shortage of seminary trained ministers. Younger pastors at times must continue their study while attempting to care for the needs of twines. Delegates indicated that means must be found for a closer working relationship both within the church and with other Protestant bodies. Annual conferences between the bishops and cabinets of the Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren churches are conducted both on a national and statewide scale with the view to possible merger within this decade.

Possible Mergers The local mission idea and future changes brought on by possible mergers also are being discussed in local churches it was pointed out.

Dr. Arthur Wileden, professor of rural sociology at the College of Agriculture, University of Wisconsin, said that population declines in Northern Wisconsin have reduced church membership to less than 100 members in about half of the churches.

A UW research indicates that 44 per cent of the population is unchurched—they do not attend or participate in the activities of any established church. Wileden said the future was good but called for adjustments.

He indicated that recreation, reforestation and resources were being developed in the northern sector of the state. Small local manufacturers are being established and agriculture is on the upswing with better management. Attention also is being focused on parish lines and size. Bishop Alton and his cabinet in a pastoral letter distributed to delegates called for a minimum of 400 members for parishes served by a single full-time pastor.

"There are situations," Bishop Alton said in our area where it is necessary for larger churches to accept relationship with a smaller neighboring church if pastoral leadership is to be provided there. In urban situations, stronger churches must consider their responsible relationship to churches that are less able to maintain adequate ministerial leadership and plan to give assistance either through direct subsidy or shared leadership.

Share Leadership The "shared pastoral leadership" concept expressed by the bishop would be accomplished through "yoked links" with other denominations, larger parishes and supervised ministries in which laymen share with pastors responsibility for leadership. Bishop Alton asked his churches to consider "the possibility of fostering an outpost church school to serve people not now being effectively drawn into the program of any church."

Regarding the role of the laity, Bishop Alton said, "It is not the role of the Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren churches are conducted both on a national and statewide scale with the view to possible merger within this decade."

The Rev. Richard Deems, pastor of the Seymour and Black Creek Methodist churches, was host to the group.

CLINTONVILLE — The council accepted the recommendations of the firm of Foth and Porath, Green Bay, consulting engineers, on the low bids as submitted on the proposed additional facilities to the Clintonville sewage treatment plant totaling $173,446. Bids were accepted at a special meeting Monday night.

The council also adopted a resolution covering the method of financing the project.

A breakdown of the total figure of $173,000 for this project lists: general construction, $114,880 awarded to George M. Hougard & Son, Inc., Green Bay; electrical work, $12,412 awarded to Radtke Electric, Shawano; plumbing, drainage and gas piping, $6,264 awarded to Quality Plumbing and Heating, Clintonville; and heating and plant piping work, $39,970 awarded to R. H. Honold, Sheboygan.

Contract Breakdown

To the total of the contracts awarded in the amount of $173,446 is added $17,000 for technical services, $1,000 legal and fiscal, $500 administrative, and $5,054 contingency fund. The amount of the federal grant to the city for this project is $50,100, which leaves $127,900 as the city's share.

The city already has $75,000 available for this project and also has paid $8,254 for plans, leaving a balance of $54,646 to be financed.

The resolution as adopted provides for the transfer from the sewage tax account of $20,000 and the balance needed not to exceed $35,000 from the general fund.

The $55,000 will be returned from the sewer tax fund to the general fund at the rate of $5,000 a year beginning in 1964.

Mayor Frank Sinkewicz commented that he thought the city is in a favorable position to be able to repay this amount in several years.
